

14 December 2012

Media Release – Marlborough Lines Tertiary Study Awards

The Marlborough Lines 2012 Tertiary Study Awards were presented today by the company's Managing Director, Ken Forrest, at a ceremony held at the Heartland Hotel.

The Awards were established in 1991 after the then Board of Directors recognised there was no acknowledgment in Marlborough for high achievers who were intending to continue their studies at tertiary level. Since then (including this year) nearly 200 students have received Awards.

The recipients of the Awards are selected by Marlborough Secondary Schools independently of Marlborough Lines.

Over the years the recipients of the Tertiary Study Awards have gained distinction in various fields of study and in their chosen professions.

A total of $18,500 has been awarded this year to seven recipients who are going on to study a diverse range of subjects at learning institutions throughout the country. Marlborough Lines is very pleased to be able to assist such a dynamic group of bright young students.

2012 recipients

Name	College	Study
Leatham Landon-Lane	Marlborough Boys' College – Dux	Bachelor of Engineering at Canterbury University
Christopher Swan	Marlborough Boys' College – Proxime Accessit	Degree in Design at Massey University in Wellington
Rebecca Forgesson	Marlborough Girls' College – Dux	Bachelor of Engineering (Hons) at Canterbury University
Sonia Ginders	Marlborough Girls' College – Proxime Accessit	Bachelor of Arts (English) and Law at Otago University
Cheyenne Conroy-Mosdell	Queen Charlotte College – Dux	Bachelor of Arts at Canterbury University
Justin Richards	Queen Charlotte College – Proxime Accessit	To be confirmed - Christchurch
Jacques Breedt	Rai Valley Area School	Pilot's Course at Ardmore Aviation School in Auckland

ENDS

For further information contact Ken Forrest, Managing Director, Marlborough Lines, phone 577 7007